The background is a collage of medical-related items. At the top left, a silver stethoscope is partially visible. Below it, a blue and white stethoscope tube lies across the frame. In the upper right, a large pile of blue and white capsules is scattered. A black clipboard with a silver clip is positioned in the lower left, holding a light blue sheet of paper. On this paper, the word "Nurse" is written in a large, blue, cursive font. A blue pen lies horizontally below the word. To the right of the clipboard, a syringe with a needle is visible, along with a small white card that has "4%" written on it. The entire scene is set against a background of pink grid paper with a faint blue ECG line running across it.
